BUILT FOR NEBRASKA

*Customer Favorites & New Releases
Brought to you by SSNC!*

CORNHUSKER

7AN875 Connely CORNHUSKER / 20976416 / Catination x Niagara Z29

He offers extra frame, power, and performance in a calving ease package. He offers exceptional depth and added power without sacrificing structural integrity.
Connely Angus, NE, Shelpflug Cattle Co, WY, and Justin & Sarah Spickler, ND

PURSUIT

7AN862 Pess PURSUIT / 20909438 / Gable x Compass

He combines balanced trait selection, proven cow family, and phenotype in one package. He hits all the high points producers demand with modest CE, fertility, foot quality, and carcass quality.
Pess Angus, NE

RISEABOVE

7AN768 Shelpflug Hoffman RISEABOVE / 20518965 / Stagecoach 190R X Jet Black 5063

RISEABOVE is the elite maternal package as he ranks near the top of the breed for $M, $W, HS and HP. He offers exceptional growth while improving phenotype.
Sjgenetics, TX, Shelpflug Cattle Co, WY, and Hoffman Ranch, NE

FAITHFUL

7AN896-44 FAITHFUL 2764 / 20577094 / VERACIOUS X Generation 2100

FAITHFUL's first calf crop confirms moderate birth weights, explosive performance, powerful phenotype and exceptional carcass merit, placing him among the best in the breed.

Would Having More Steer Calves Positively Impact Your Bottom Line?

ABS Global's Sexcel® 60/40 Synch is a strategic breeding program that has historically been used to design the right replacement heifers from the right segment of your cow herd. However, we understand that no two operations are the same, and thus, they have differing goals for the utilization of AI.

Given the $20-$40/CWT price spread between males and females in the industry today, we flipped the script and utilized sexed male semen in the model here to increase revenue generated.

Whatever your goals, use Sexcel 60/40 Synch to skew the sex rate of your calf crop and maximize profits.

Contact us to help you increase profits by skewing the gender ratio of your calf crop.

2025 Producer of the Year

BEAR MOUNTAIN ANGUS - is a family-owned ranch operation by Brian and Tiffany Stoller along with their daughters, Mckinley and Reagan. Reagan and her husband Dennis have both started their careers and help on the ranch when time allows. They are located near Palisade in southwest Nebraska, about 30 miles west of McCook. Seventeen years ago, they made the move to Palisade from Melba, Idaho—and they couldn't have picked a better place to pursue their passion for raising high-quality Angus cattle.

Their Angus story began in 1985 when Brian's parents, Gary and Davy, purchased his brother and himself each an Angus heifer from Thomas Angus in Baker, Oregon. That simple start sparked a lifelong involvement in the Angus breed, from the California Sierra Nevada foothills in the small town of Angels Camp to leadership roles in both State and National Junior Angus programs. In 2001, they acquired Foote Acres Angus in Idaho, a herd with more than 50 years of history. Then, in 2008, they headed east to Nebraska—and quickly discovered just how well this state fits what they love most: raising top-notch Angus cattle.

Both Mckinley and Reagan have carried on the tradition, playing active roles in the Nebraska and National Junior Angus programs. They've each served on the Nebraska Junior Angus Board, and Reagan went on to serve on the National Junior Angus Board as well. Mckinley has recently served as the Nebraska Angus princess and Reagan served as the states Angus Queen in 2017 & 2018. Their slogan, "Focusing on Quality with Performance," defines everything they do. They strive to raise cattle that are structurally sound and functional, with muscle, volume, and capacity—balanced in a moderate frame that still delivers scale-tipping weight and performance on the rail. Today, they run about 250 mother cows, all registered or serving a recipis, calving roughly 80% in the spring and 20% in the fall. They rely on AI and embryo transfer to ensure their customers have access to cutting-edge genetics, while managing their herd under the same conditions many of their commercial customers face. That way, they know their cattle work in the real world.

Along the way, they've been fortunate to raise several influential bulls that have moved the breed forward, including Freight Train, Owyhee (O-y-he), Justify, Justice, Pilot, and North Star. These successes come from their commitment to building the best Angus cow possible—focusing on multiple functional traits rather than chasing fads or single-trait extremes. At the end of the day, their goal is to keep their customers profitable and sustainable for generations to come.

Brian and Tiffany count their many blessings of great neighbors and friends who lend a hand when needed. Though they currently don't have full-time employees, they're always open to the right fit of joining their team.

At Bear Mountain Angus, they're proud of their past, passionate about the present, and excited for the future of this breed they love.
